

TRAINING

The success of any club is dependent on ability of players, spirit and fitness. The fitness aspect is being handled on Wednesdays by Chris Morgan, Terry Pepprell and Geoff Keates. They have transformed what can be a boring and tedious once a week penance into an interesting and beneficial exercise. The only pity is that more players don't attend not only for their own benefit but for the team as well. Getting match fit is hard work but variety at training helps take the mind off the pain, come along, you may enjoy it! Even Bish Seymour admitted he enjoyed it last week!

SOCIAL

Under the parental guidance of Chris Morgan, the Social Committee of Carl Hodges, Steve Partridge and Phil Watson have provided us with many social events of late.

The most recent of these being the darts evening in which Wes's Wonders beat the son Par Party 3-2 in an exciting final. The victorious captain was quoted as saying that next year he will start drinking (not buying) earlier since his arm improved once the alcohol got through to his "brain". Buzby, also on the winning side, was not so sure about the benefits of drinking and throwing. He unwisely tried to hide the fact that it was his birthday and paid the price by having to drink a horrendous cocktail prior to the final. He doesn't remember the last two games or spraying his Pomagne over the assembled company. This is probably the best thing to do with Pomagne.

Congratulations to the winning team, organiser Phil Watson and runners up. This was a well organised and well attended event, hopefully to be repeated annually at this time, so get some practice.

The Paul Tew - Percy Fifth Sunday Luchtime Entertainment was well attended and copious amounts of alcohol were consumed despite shaking hands and inane grins.

There is a similar function for the opposite sex on November 8th and tickets are going quickly so you had better buy your tickets soon.

Thanks are due to Paul for organising these entertainments, hopefully there will be another in the New Year.

Unfortunately, the Bonfire Night Party has been cancelled for something more suitable. Watch the notice board for further details.

BAR PRICES

Scrumpy Seymour reluctantly announces a price rise at the bar. These increases have been kept to a minimum and he impresses on those with reduced brain cells to carry on drinking the grog which is still at pre-decimalisation prices.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Both Carl Hodges and Howard Cooke have become fathers recently, congratulations to them and their wives. Perhaps we had better put more Bromide in the I.P.A.

TEAM SECRETARY

As from October 21st Pete Tyrer will be Team Secretary. He will contact players after selection on a Monday to inform them which team they are required for. These teams will also appear in the Chronicle and Echo on Friday night.
